

TEAM LEADERSHIP

Certificate Program

ABOUT THE PROGRAM

Become a vital part of your organization's future by learning how to stop managing and start leading.

Learn to create high-performance teams by delegating in a way that insures task completion, run productive meetings, enhance confidence and enthusiasm of team members and coach team members for improved results.

Students completing this certificate program will be awarded college credit for all courses in the Certificate by Sullivan University (a regionally accredited university offering Associate, Bachelor, Master's, and Doctoral degrees) and will be accepted as a part of the degree credits in programs related to the certificate program selected. Transfer of credit for students attending another University other than Sullivan University may be accepted based on the credit of transfer policies of the receiving University.
