Employee Engagement Workshop (Free)

In-Person

The key to driving employee engagement starts with your leaders and depends on those leaders making engagement a daily priority. Engaged employees are the new competitive edge, but driving meaningful engagement improvement has been elusive for many organizations. Join us for this executive business briefing and see what others have been missing in the employee engagement equation.

What You'll Learn

See how immediate managers play a key role in employee engagement and how to equip managers with relationship-centered leadership strategies to drive engagement. Join us for this interactive workshop and you'll learn the critical behaviors managers must demonstrate on a daily basis to drive engagement with their teams.

Why you want to learn it

Leaders at every level are the biggest determining factor of their team's willingness to go the extra mile or even stay with your company. Dale Carnegie's most recent research found that managers are more likely to have engaged teams when they make engaging them a daily priority. In this workshop you'll learn what managers can do every day, and in every interaction, to make their employees more emotionally and intellectually committed to the organization.

How it will help you

Managers Matter: A Relationship-Centered Approach to Driving Employee Engagement is an employee engagement workshop designed to provide you with the tools necessary to create a value-driven culture that will raise confidence levels and make employees feel valued, connected, and empowered to achieve higher levels of performance.
