

Organizational Development

Leaders Matter: A Relationship-Centered Approach to Driving Employee Engagement

In-Person

The bottom line for engagement is that leaders matter and are most influential factor in driving employee engagement levels.

What you'll learn

See how leaders play a key role in employee engagement and can be equipped with relationship-centered leadership strategies to drive engagement. Join us for this interactive workshop and you'll learn the critical behaviors leaders must demonstrate on a daily basis to drive engagement with their teams.

Why you want to learn it

Leaders at every level are the biggest determining factor of their team's willingness to go the extra mile or even stay with your company. Dale Carnegie's most recent research found that leaders are more likely to have engaged teams when they make engaging them a daily priority. In this workshop you'll learn what leaders can do every day, and in every interaction, to make their employees more emotionally and intellectually committed to the organization.

How it will help you

Leaders Matter: A Relationship-Centered Approach to Driving Employee Engagement is an employee engagement workshop designed to provide you with the tools necessary to create a value-driven culture that will raise confidence levels and make employees feel valued, connected, and empowered to achieve higher levels of performance.