Free Seminar - Developing a High Performing Team

En présentiel

Create a productive team that delivers consistent results

Ce que vous apprendrez

How to recognise the leader's role as a motivator and develop a greater awareness of the needs that drive people. You'll be able to align individual motivations with organisational goals and capitalise on individual strengths to take teams to higher levels of performance. You'll also learn to realise the impact recognition has on morale and retention.

Pourquoi vous voulez l'apprendre

Rarely are great business accomplishments the work of one individual. High performing teams are essential to achieving outstanding organisational performance especially during periods of uncertainty and change.

Comment cela va vous aider

Successful teams have a shared goal and an understanding of how each team member's strengths can make that goal a reality. When they are committed and engaged they deliver high level performance, solve problems and are open to new ideas and change.
