

Skuteczne Prezentacje

Foundational Success for the New Generation Program

Szkolenie In-Person

This program is designed to provide critical life skills and tools to help young people build confidence, enhance communication skills, develop interpersonal skills, groom leadership abilities and effectively manage stress and attitude so that they would be able to face various future challenges.

Czego się nauczysz?

Learn to focused on the goals, be a better decision makers and have a sense of responsibility when faced with difficult choices. Be a more persuasive communicators, prepared for applying to college and interviewing for jobs. Able to confront problems and challenges in a more positive way.

Dlaczego chcesz się tego nauczyć?

You want a "Lead-start" in life, you are concerned about the career and want to prepare for life in University or higher education. You are about to study abroad or facing a different environment and are interested in enhancing communications and human relation skills with friends and family. You want to enhance your leadership abilities.

Jak ci to pomoże?

With highly interactive sessions, real life scenarios and role playing, you will be able to step out of the comfort zone and engage in non-traditional interpersonal training that will make real transformations for a life time.